Blue Devil Sportscope

BY MIKE McDOUGALD

"They'll do their best," says the Man and that is all I want."
The Man was talking about his track team. They take off this afternoon for Macon for the State Track Meet, where the cinder path boys will compete in the fastest company in Georgia. Jimmy "Scat-rabbit" Mincey, "ain't seen nuttin' yet" but we'll put our necks on him and as long as he's out front he don't need to "see nuttin'."
All in all the Blue Devils track team has a good chance of winning their share of the first place as any other team in the state, in spite of the fact they'll be running in very fast company.
And Macon is attracting not only the track boys. Last Week Patty Banks, Hal Walters, Miss Margaret Garner, and Mrs. W. S. Harner journeyed to Macon, S. C. to compete in the state literary meet. Hal represented SHS in the boys' solo contest and Patty represented the Blue Devils in the reading contest. Patty won third place in the state and that's good reading in anybody's back yard.

The Blue Devils plunkin' kickers are also here through for this school year... well not quiet-ting. The boys on the line are finished, but the ball taters are knowing what it is to sweat it out under this warm spring sunshine. "The Man" has had them out every afternoon running through

Memorial Service City Council To Call Mass Meeting To Study City Needs

In tribute to five alumni who died during World War II The Georgia Teachers College Alumni Association will hold a memorial service during Alumni Day activities at the college May 25.

The five TC alumni to be honored in the memorial service are LeRoy Covart Jr. and Roland Warrick, both of Statesboro; Charles H. Browne, Brunswick; Hardy Lee Pilkinton, Manchester, and Harvin D. Mulkey, Panama, Fla. Families and friends of each have been invited to attend as guest of the Alumni Association, according to Miss Hassie McElveen, secretary-treasurer.

Beginning with a "Teachers College Leadership Roll Call" at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, presided over by Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, college president, Alumni Day will conclude with the farewell dance in Alumni Hall, college gymnasium. The Faculty-Alumni Social will precede this event.

During the general business meeting three directors will be elected. Alumni will also discuss the proposed changes in TC student organization, possible reorganization of campus social clubs.

The city has $80,000 indebtedness outstanding. On the basis of the present valuation the city can borrow only $175,000, which, if allowed, would net only $115,000.

It is believed that an equitable revaluation of city property would result in a net gain of $200,000. A bond issue in this amount would pay the $80,000 existing indebtedness and net the city $200,000 with which to give the city the services needed.

The city council expects to have a voice in its affairs. Announcement will be made later on the date of the mass meeting.

Emory Fivash, the field man, will be present to assist the farmers and the County Agent, Mr. Byron Dyer, in filling out the application blanks.

Bring along with you the number of your motor, the horse power, the kind of machinery that the farmer owns, the automobile motor, the number and make of service he is using on the farm or not. The State Revenue Department is anxious that all of the farmers apply and receive the refund that he is entitled to receive.

When Mr. Campbell calls at your home, he will ask you to "Please allow him to turn on your meter to check it for local interference."

He points out that when the survey is completed he plans to localize the interference zones and make attempts to remedy the cause. "It has been done in Atlanta and many other cities to the added enjoyment of radio listeners," he said.

Senior men had the highest average with 3.57, a new B rating, while freshmen men were lowest with 2.42, a low C. The student body average of 2.70 was bettered by men students with a 2.71 average while women students had a 2.69 ratio of the group of 31 veterans who completed the winter quarter only three fell below the C average.

Complete breakdown of grades for the student body by class shows senior women with 3.29; junior men, 3.43; junior women, 3.27; sophomore men, 2.62; sophomore women, 2.57. West Hall had the Women, 2.45, and freshmen highest dormitory average followed by Lewis Hall, Town students, Sanford Hall and East Hall.

Marine recruits to be here Thursday, May 9.

Marine Sgt. Harry Pugh and Charlie McCullen of the Savannah Recruiting Staff will be at the Postoffice Bldg. in Statesboro for the purpose of interviewing and accepting young men for enlistment in the Marine Corps Age limits, 17 to 26, applicants must be of good physical condition, and of good character. Desirable applicants may enlist for duty in the Marine Air Corps. Men enlisting are eligible for the GE Bill of Rights. Contact either of the sgts. for full particulars on enlistment in the Marine Corps. Recruiters will be in Statesboro all day Thursday, May 9, 1946.

Speech and music recital Tuesday, May 14.

Miss Margaret Garner and Mrs. Virel Hillard will present their speech and piano pupils through the fifth grade in recital Tuesday evening, May 14, at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

On Thursday evening, Mr. Hester, dancing instructor, will present his pupils in a dance recital at the high school auditorium.

The senior class will have its annual day fun when they go on their picnic Friday, May 17. The Band's picnic will be about the same date.

Commencement Sermon will be preached on Sunday, May 26, by Rev. Chas. A. Jackson, Jr., at the Methodist Church.

"Back To Farm" Vet Movement With U. S. Aid

An estimated 8000 Georgia veterans of World War II may soon be taking advantage of the Veterans Administration farm training program.

Jack I. Biles, Veterans Administration Control Representative in Statesboro, pointed out today that a "back to the farm" migration of veterans should develop rapidly as financial aid extended by the Veterans Administration through the employment and training allowances under the GI Bill.

The agricultural farm training program, which is still in its infancy, is being developed by the Veterans Administration through the employment and training allowances under the GI Bill.

Already, institutional training is available in 29 counties. On-the-job training will be offered as rapidly as the state veterans service office is able to approve farms and institutions for training purposes.

Veterans taking training classified as institutional farm training must be situated on a farm, or which they have complete control and spend their entire time at work. Under this type training, an agricultural instructor will offer the veteran a minimum of four hours in organized classroom instruction and two hours on farm instruction each week.

On-the-job training includes some specialized objective such as the operation of a farm, poultryman, herdsman, etc. This type training was pointed out, is available on the best organized farms, including Bobby Martin, another Nevils 4-Her, took the big prize of the show when his home-grown steer was named the champion of the group that was dropped, raised and shown from the same farm. His award was the purebred Hereford heifer donated by Alfred Dorman.

Mr. Dorman announced at the show that he would make the same award in the 1947 show. He said that he would make the same award in the 1947 show. He said that he would make the same award in the 1947 show.

Millen Youth Wins Top Prize At Fat Stock Show

A home-grown Hereford steer belonging to W. A. Law, III, of Millen, took top honors at the Fat Stock Show and Sale held here last Thursday. The Bullock Stockyards bought the champion at $56. per 100 pounds.

The show and sale is believed to be the largest held in the state, attracted 320 entries which sold for a total of $41,083.70.

Young Law's champion sold on its merits, according to a statement made by Dr. E. J. Kennedy, and C. P. Oliff, chairman of the show and sale committee. "And the way it should be," they said in making clear their attitude on "bushy" the champion has ever seen, however, he added, "if we continue to get materials ok," he said.

He estimated that the more than 6,000 acres of tobacco planted in this county will cure out about 6,000,000 lbs. of tobacco.

When asked about the prospects for the tobacco crop, Cheppard expressed his belief that the two sets would be a success for the 1946 market.

He stated that the new warehouse being built by him and Aubrey J. Brannan will be completed in about six or eight weeks. "If we continue to get materials ok," he said.

Many in Statesboro have already made contributions of $5. each, and others are making contributions and one business man on South Main Street gave $25.

Appreciation will be accepted with a distribution and used by this missionary friend, an outstanding Christian and a splendid medical man.

B'FEET SUPPER

A delightful event of Saturday evening was the buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Emory Brannen at their home in Register. Artistic arrangements of Queen Anne's lace, larkspur and roses decorated the home, while the prettily appointed table in the dining room was covered with an exquisite imported lace cloth and had as the centerpiece a crystal bowl of roses and pansies. At each end of the table were crystal three-branched candelabra holding white tapers. The same decorations were duplicated on the buffet.

Enjoying this supper were: Mr. and Mrs. Grady Bland, Mr. and Mrs. Devane Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brannen and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Brannen.

WITCH CLUB DANCE

Thursday evening the Woman's Club was the scene of a dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Murray and Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Jones, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jennings, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Clifton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant who entertained.

The color motif pink and white was effectively carried out in the club decorations and refreshments. The mantle and hearth had a background of pink roses, which stood a rose covered trellis. The table was covered with a beautiful Madeira cloth and was decorated with clusters of Dorothy Perkins pink roses. The central decoration was a miniature Maypole.

Lambuth Key's orchestra furnished music for the evening. At intermission pink lemonade, individual cakes beautifully embellished in pink roses, opened sandwiches, pickles and nuts were served.

The guests were given pink, white and green crepe paper umbrellas, made by Mrs. Charles Bryant, and an umbrella novelty dance was the special feature following intermission.

Thirty-two couples enjoyed the dance.

BRANNEN—SHEAROUSE
Mrs. Edna M. Brannen of Portland, announces the engagement of her daughter, Dorothy Jane, to John Nathaniel Shearouse, of Brooklet and Statesboro.

The marriage will take place in June.

HONOR MOTHER'S BIRTHDAY
The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Floyd Coleman was the scene of a beautiful social occasion Wednesday evening, honoring their mother, Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Sr., with a buffet supper celebrating her birthday.

An abundance of larkspur, ragged-robins and roses added festive charm to the home. In the dining room the table was over-spread with an exquisite imported cloth and was graced by a prettily embossed birthday cake on a silver tray surrounded by a chandelier of roses as the centerpiece, which was flanked by gleaming silver candelabra holding burning pink candles. The buffet was resplendent with five branched silver candelabra holding pink tapers, in the center was a silver container filled with roses and larkspur.

The supper consisting of the main course and a sweet course was served the honoree, Mrs. Coleman and her children, Mr. and Mrs. Leodel Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Floyd Coleman and their daughter, Linda.

After the supper Mrs. Coleman was presented many lovely gifts.

MISS KIRKENTON ENTERTAINS
Miss Irene Kirkenton entertained at her home on Grady Street Thursday evening.

Roses were used to decorate the room where the guests assembled for four tables of bridge.

Miss Helen Brannen won high score prize, which was toilet water; Miss Ruby Lee Jones was awarded a box of candy for low score and Mrs. Arnold Anderson drew out prize which was a box of fancy soap.

At the conclusion of the games Miss Kirkenton served pear salad, ritz crackers, Lorna Doone crackers, olives and iced tea. Each guest was given novelty pastel paper baskets filled with toasted nuts as party favors.

The guest list included: Mrs. H. R. Christian, Mrs. Stothard Deal, Mrs. Jesse Atkins, Mrs. Ray M. Leckie, Mrs. R. P. Shannon, Mrs. Ed Gilmore, Mrs. Dewey Cannon, Mrs. D. C. Foster, Miss Helen Brown, Miss Hattie Powell, Miss Sara Hall, Miss Leona Anderson, Miss Zula Gammage, Miss Helen Brannen, Miss Ruby Lee Jones and Mrs. Arnold Anderson.

ALATHEAN CLASS ENTERTAINED

The members of the Alathean Class of the Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a delightful out-door supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aldred, on Biddle Hill Wednesday evening.

This party was the culmination of an enthusiastic contest to increase attendance of the members. The class was divided into three groups with Captains. Mrs. Frank Simmons, Mrs. D. L. Davis and Mrs. Gerald Groover. The two losing groups entertained the class. The group led by Mrs. Simmons was the winning team.

Miss Mary Lou Carmichael is teacher of this class and Mrs. G. Bland is class president. The supper menu consisted of barbecued chicken, salad, rolls, olive sandwiches, pickle and iced tea.

Forty-five members enjoyed the party.

MR. AND MRS. SMITH HOSTS

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith delightfully entertained with a dinner party at their lovely home on Savannah Avenue, as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Otis Ball and Mrs. O. Willingham of Jackson.

The living room was beautifully decorated with etoile de Hollande, Editor McFarland roses and pastel sweet peas.

In the dining room a silver bowl holding golden daisies was the central decoration for the lace covered table.

The dinner was served in two courses which consisted of the main course and a sweet course. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Otis Ball and Mr. and Mrs. O. Willingham, of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Remer Warnock, of Brooklet, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. Fred Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith.

Mrs. Virgil Durden has returned to her home in Graymont after visiting her mother, Mrs. R. F. Donaldson and other relatives. Mrs. J. W. Keith, of Gay, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bill Keith.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A delightful party of Thursday afternoon was when Sandra Martin entertained twenty of her little friends, celebrating her ninth birthday, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Martin on Walnut Street.

Out-door games were played after which ice cream, cake and punch was served.

Assisting Mrs. Martin, mother of the hostess, in entertaining were: Mrs. A. O. Bland, Mrs. Mike Bland and Jean Martin.

The party favors were lollipop dressed in gay crepe paper doll costumes.

All's Fair

Our heart was made glad Monday morning when we entered the Herald office and were greeted by our genial Advertising Director, Jim Coleman, who had been absent from his desk more than three weeks because of an ailment which originated in his foot and spread upward. He was confined at the hospital for two weeks under the skillful care of Dr. John Mooney.

We are so glad that Jim is able to take up his duties with us again and most cordially welcome him on behalf of the staff and office personnel of the Bulloch Herald.

It's well to have him in his accustomed place and to be able to carry on from there.

Lottie Blitch (Mrs. W. H.) has been visiting her mother since Friday — just for the sheer, slap-dash pleasure of letting herself know she hasn't been deranging — and a cable from her youngest son, Lt. Parrish Blitch, who is with the Air Force in Tokyo, informing her that he was willing to go to the front and would probably arrive in Seattle about the twelfth or soon after. To prove that though several thousand miles separated them, she is uppermost in his mind and heart, a dozen red roses and an exquisite cascade of white orchids preceded the cable brought gladness to her heart and a twinkle to her eyes.

We can all appreciate Willie Groover's predicament of Wednesday afternoon. Soon after returning from a brief business trip he was ready to relax and rest a while when a sudden door bell rang—Willie's first impulse was, well, let it ring and ring it, again and again. By the time her curiosity was aroused in a big way. She began to wonder just who it could be, oh, who can it be? Then softly and silently as night she crept to a window to look out and see who could the caller be. Before her house she saw this long streamline automobile about which she heard a voice saying, "Let's leave a note." Realizing it was people to know her and not the dreaded salesman, she began to vision vases about the living room and dining room, holding withered Easter lilies, drooping roses and faded sweet peas, also papers and magazines were everywhere and a note of dust had contributed its part to the awe stricken scene of an untidy house. Remember we stated at the beginning, Willie had been away! As the note was about to be dropped into the mail box, Willie recognized the visitor to be none other than her former room mate at Wesleyan and very dear friend who had played the nuptial music at her wedding, Nell Eley and with her were her husband, Fernin Collier also Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Edge from LaGrange who were on their way to attend the Cotton Convention in Savannah Wednesday thru Friday. Their visit was brief—Saturday they returned and had lunch with Willie, but this time they found an immaculate house all spick and span, fresh flowers were in evidence everywhere, while the dust covered furniture of Wednesday, gleamed like satin and what's more a delicious lunch was ready to be served.

CASUAL GLIMPSES: Priscilla Olliff wearing a summer wool two-piece tailored suit of white-wine, a scarf of fuchsia chiffon formed an accent at her throat. Her hat was of feather weight hand woven South American straw, some shade as the suit and had a grosgrain band of fuchsia. She wore essay spectators of white suede and brown calf skin and carried a brown kid bag.

Foye Smith, at a party wearing a dress of gray flower splashed corolla patterned crepe. Her upturned open-crown hat was of black straw.

Lenore Keith presented an enchanting picture Sunday, wearing a dress of black crepe boasting a becoming neckline cap sleeves accented by elbow length gloves of softest pink. Her avial hat was black transparent braided and was adorned by two wind blown pink roses.

Mary Mikell (Mrs. Frank) at the club wearing a combination dress of black, slim cut skirt, white blouse with brief cap sleeves, a swooping diagonal plume bordered in black and chapeau with the hair accessories were of black. Her accessories were of black.

OUR MOTHER
Magical Word, may it never die. From lips that love to speak it, Nor melt away from the trusting hearts.

That would break to keep it, Like thine? Will there ever be another? The angels have reared in heaven a shrine.

To the holy name of MOTHER.
As ever,
JANE.

Mrs. E. C. Oliver and Mrs. Clyde Mitchell were guests of Mrs. J. H. Brett at the Attaway cottage on Savannah Beach today.

SENIOR PLAY

Should you be acquainted with the temperament of the inhabitants of southern California you probably know that they are a people who will try anything once, and from observation you have probably learned that for most of their "soups to nuts" the author has taken one of their most interesting and futuristic speculations and used it with riotous consequences. California is not only a land of many mocking birds but there are a number of curious with original ideas and thoughts. Many of these ideas develop into brainstorms that blow themselves out before they cross the California border. Out there, the prevailing thought is one of concentration: to reduce the ideal state of living to vociferous simplicity. It isn't probable that we of the present day will see this ideal state but we can have a glimpse of the intensely humorous situations created in the making of this ambitious perfection. For this purpose the author brings you the seemingly funny farce, "Soup to Nuts."

It is as mad and interesting as the country which inspired it. As luxuriously insane as the stories that come out of this fascination land, "Soup to Nuts," as presented by the Senior class of Portals High School in the school auditorium on May 10, at 8:30 p. m. will bring you an evening of sunnier laughter as you have rarely experienced.

Joe Beall of North Carolina and his uncle, Mr. Beall, of Lancaster, S. C., visited at the home of Mrs. J. P. Beall during the week-end.

Mrs. Harold Howard, Miss Gloria Howard and Foy Howard, of Statesboro, and William Southwell of Savannah visited Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Howard during the week-end.

Mrs. Walter Hatcher and son, of Beaufort, S. C., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hinton.

Mrs. J. H. Hinton spent the week-end in Atlanta attending a meeting of Home Economics teachers.

The forty-two members of the eighth grade of the Brooklet High School enjoyed an afternoon picnic and supper at Dasher's Friday.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Lundgren, their home-room teacher, and by Mrs. H. G. Parrish, Sr., Mrs. W. B. Roddenberry and Mrs. A. B. Barnard.

Mrs. Floyd Atkins entertained with a theater party and afterwards with a wicker roast Saturday afternoon in honor of the 12th birthday of her daughter, Ann.

The girls who enjoyed the party were Jennie Johnson, Joan Denmark, Gloria McElveen, Jill Bryn, Ann, Nell Wells, Jean Garrick and the honoree, Ann Atkins.

Homers Lee Carnes, who was badly injured two weeks ago in an automobile wreck, has been brought home from the Bulloch County Hospital and is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carnes.

The May Meeting of the Brooklet PTA will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 3 o'clock in the High School Auditorium.

The president, Mrs. Floyd Atkins, will conduct the business meeting, and at this time Mrs. W. Lee McElveen, chairman of the nominating committee, will announce the new officers who will serve during the school year, 1946-47.

Special invitations went to the high school students in an art exhibit, the work of the students in the grammar grades. At the close of the meeting there will be a social hour and refreshments will be served.

Friends of Miss Emily Cromley, who was badly injured in an automobile wreck in Savannah, will be pleased to know she is improving.

Temporary summer grazing is one of the best and cheapest ways of supplying feed for farm livestock, specialists of the Georgia Extension Service say.

Cripping and bruising of farm livestock due to careless handling enroute to market reduce the returns the farmer gets for his livestock.

Feed sacks and bags can be used to make many attractive clothes and household articles, home industries specialists of the State Extension Service declare.

Wild greens such as dandelion, watercress, field cress and pokeweed which grow in Georgia can be used to supply the greens needed in the diet during the spring months.

Cat-tail millet is one of the best summer temporary grazing crops, according to the extension service. It gives shrd shrill chirp like Georgia area.

Studen grass is a quick-growing plant which gives a lot of good summer growth, agronomists of the Georgia Extension Service declare.

A good stand of healthy plants is one of the most important factors in securing large per acre yields of cotton.

Four-H club projects help develop interest and resourcefulness of farm boys and girls.

Gardens can play an important part in helping to meet home food needs, horticulturists of the Georgia Extension Service assert.

What's on your mind for summer? School is just about out—three more weeks—doesn't seem possible does it?

But if you count the weeks, or even days, on your calendar, you will see that your summer vacation is nearer than you think.

Why think about summer vacations now? Well because it is so easy to let a summer slip by, sort of unnoticed. And it is not too soon to plan for making this summer one of your best and most pleasant experiences.

All these plans you and your family had to postpone until peacetime can now be talked about. The much-discussed long motor trip, if the family's previous automobile can take it, may actually become a reality. A few postcards to State Chambers of Commerce or all companies, asking for maps and folders, will make you the popular member of your family when you have the answer to "Where shall we go?"

This summer there will be many opportunities for a new kind of vacation. For one thing, you may be able to return to your favorite camp, some of you as junior counselors. And if right here is as good a place as any to maintain a summer job. For some young people a job is as much of a vacation as a trip to the Grand Canyon.

That is what Peter is planning for this summer. He has applied for a job with a publishing company which has a large plant in his home town. In another year Peter will be ready for college and he wants the experience of working in the kind of business which he hopes to make his profession.

Nancy who for the last year has been taking a special evening course in handcrafts at the community center in her town, is going back to her camp in New England, this time with a part-time job as assistant to the camp counselor and thus make use of her newly learned skill.

If you decide to take a job this summer and start to plan for it early enough, which is now, you can probably find one which fits your particular interest.

Of course, there is one kind of vacation which requires plenty of thoughtful planning—the vacation at home. Everyone was so busy during the war years making spare time counts that often friendly and leisurely things to do in a home-town during the summer were put on the shelf. Now they can be brought down, dusted off and can really happen. A vacation at home can be a new way for you to meet new friends and get to know your old ones.

You may do it but it, but a home-town vacation can border on boredom after several weeks of morning swim, afternoon movie and evening juke box. You may even find yourself with a slight nausea for school and home-work. A vacation at home, with no particular plan in view but lazy days is fun to think of right now, but not so delightful around the first week in August.

SUMMER IE A-COMING

What's on your mind for summer? School is just about out—three more weeks—doesn't seem possible does it?

But if you count the weeks, or even days, on your calendar, you will see that your summer vacation is nearer than you think.

Why think about summer vacations now? Well because it is so easy to let a summer slip by, sort of unnoticed. And it is not too soon to plan for making this summer one of your best and most pleasant experiences.

All these plans you and your family had to postpone until peacetime can now be talked about. The much-discussed long motor trip, if the family's previous automobile can take it, may actually become a reality. A few postcards to State Chambers of Commerce or all companies, asking for maps and folders, will make you the popular member of your family when you have the answer to "Where shall we go?"

This summer there will be many opportunities for a new kind of vacation. For one thing, you may be able to return to your favorite camp, some of you as junior counselors. And if right here is as good a place as any to maintain a summer job. For some young people a job is as much of a vacation as a trip to the Grand Canyon.

That is what Peter is planning for this summer. He has applied for a job with a publishing company which has a large plant in his home town. In another year Peter will be ready for college and he wants the experience of working in the kind of business which he hopes to make his profession.

Nancy who for the last year has been taking a special evening course in handcrafts at the community center in her town, is going back to her camp in New England, this time with a part-time job as assistant to the camp counselor and thus make use of her newly learned skill.

If you decide to take a job this summer and start to plan for it early enough, which is now, you can probably find one which fits your particular interest.
